WHERE WE ARE

The Carolina Population Center (CPC) is located just behind the Target on Franklin Street, next to a giant orange sculpture. (We are somewhat hard to find.)

Franklin Street is the main thoroughfare in downtown Chapel Hill. On Franklin Street, you'll find coffee shops, spots to eat, and (in the evening) a student population heading off to the many bars that dot the street.

DIRECTIONS FROM CAROLINA INN

Many of our visitors stay at the Carolina Inn, which is located at 211 Pittsboro Street and is four blocks away from the Carolina Population Center.

To get from the Carolina Inn to CPC, cross the intersection at Cameron and Columbia, continuing on Columbia towards Franklin Street until you reach a light in front of the Ackland Art Museum.

Cross at the light towards the fraternities and walk through the fraternity parking lot. You'll see a path and a different parking lot - with a parking garage in front of you.

CPC is located in this building. If you follow it around, you'll enter by the orange sculpture next to the overhang that says "123 W Franklin St." We're on the second floor.

GETTING AROUND

Chapel Hill has a free bus service that takes you to spots around campus and town. Hop on a blue bus -they're free. You can take the CW, F, and J up Franklin Street. (Google Maps has up-to-date schedules.)

VISITORS CENTER

The Chapel Hill Visitors Bureau (501 W Franklin Street) has information on local restaurants, nightlife, and things to see in the area.

The UNC Visitors Center (134 E. Franklin Street) is open to guests 10 a.m. – 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.
