

Should My Manuscript Cite the P2C Center Grant (HD050924)?

Does it include any of the following themes?

Themes:

- Inequality, Mobility, and Well-Being
- Population, Health, and Environment
- Sexuality, Reproduction, Fertility, and Families
- Population Dynamics and Composition

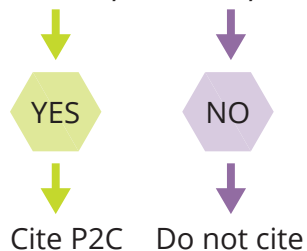

Subtopics:

- Contraceptive behaviors
- Women's reproductive health
- Men's reproductive health
- Labor and delivery/obstetrics
- Breastfeeding

- Early learning
- Early exposures and later life outcomes
- Adolescent health
- Women's health
- Health and disease over the life course
- Human health, productivity, and development
- HIV/AIDS
- Sexually transmitted infections
- Sleep
- Gene-environmental interactions
- Migration
- Racial disparities

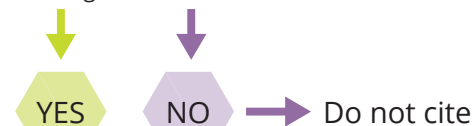

Does it draw on or is it informed by a social science, biosocial, or biodemographic theory?

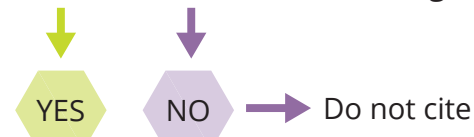

Does it include any of the following themes?

Themes:

- Early exposures and later life outcomes
- Health and disease over the life course
- Migration
- Wages

Does it draw on or is it informed by a social science, biosocial, or biodemographic theory?

Cite P2C

Sample Acknowledgments: Research reported in this publication was supported by NICHD of the National Institutes of Health under award number P2C HD050924.

Additional sample acknowledgments here
Download CPC public access compliance guide here

Contact Lexie Groner with questions:
Lexie_Groner@unc.edu