08/31/2026 aftermath of the COVID pandemic

(MPI: Mohanan and Maselko)

R01 HD107420, NICHD

Role: Multiple Principal Investigator

The overall goal of this project is to examine trajectories of child/adolescent mental health and primary healthcare utilization including immunization, in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our project, located in India, will test key hypotheses about the pandemic's impact on health outcomes, vulnerability to future shocks, and sources of heterogeneity in these relationships.

04/30/2025 longitudinal study of child development

(PI: Maselko)

R01-2 HD075875, NICHD

Role: Principal Investigator

The major goals of this project are to examine the impact of multiple psychosocial exposures on child outcomes through age 8. The Bachpan study is a collaboration with the SHARE perinatal depression intervention in Pakistan and enrolls mother-child dyads who participate in the clustered randomized trial together with a cohort of women who are not depressed prenatally.

11/01/19-
10/31/21 Impact of treating perinatal depression on infant HPA axis function.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
R03HD097434, NICHD
Total Award: $155,500
Role: Principal Investigator
This study focuses on the relationship between maternal depression, other stressors, and maternal and offspring HPA axis function. Using data from the Bachpan cohort that includes hair samples from roughly 100 mother-child dyads, we will conduct a secondary analysis to assess (a) the impact of the perinatal depression intervention on maternal and offspring biomarkers of HPA axis function as well as (b) other determinants of HPA functioning.

04/22/16-
01/31/21 Multilevel mechanisms of HIV acquisition in young South African women.
(PI: Audrey Pettifor)
R01 MH110186, NIMH
Total Award: $3,436,000
Role: Collaborator
This study aims to determine the effect and mechanisms of gender inequity, schooling and socio-economic status as factors that influence HIV acquisition in young women in South Africa. The project combines primary data collection with linking existing cohort data with datasets that contain community social environment data as well as population census data.

01/30/23 Impact of maternal depression treatment on maternal health, parental investment and child development.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
CEDIL Foundation
Total Award: 999,238BP (approx. $1,303,600) terminated 2 years early due to UK budget cuts
This study combines the evaluation of the extended version of the Thinking Healthy Program-Pre-School on child development and mother-child dyad HPA axis indicators, with an experiment that evaluates giving mothers feedback about their child performance on investment behaviors.

05/01/14-
04/30/20 Impact of Perinatal Depression Treatment on Child Developmental Outcomes. (aka: Bachpan Cohort Study)
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
R01 HD075875, NICHD
Total Award: $2,271,000
Role: Principal Investigator
This study investigates the medium term impacts of a perinatal depression intervention on child socio-emotional outcomes. The Bachpan study is a collaboration with the SHARE perinatal depression intervention in Pakistan (U19MH095678) and enrolls mother-child dyads who participate in the clustered randomized trial together with a cohort of women who are not depressed prenatally. The study follows mothers starting in the 3rd trimester of pregnancy and until the child is 3 years old.

9/116-6/30/18 Domestic Violence Attitudes and Culturally Appropriate Prevention in Pakistan.

(PI: Lisa Bates)

NIH/Fogarty

Total Award: $414,000

Role: Co-investigator

The goal of this project is to examine attitudes and norms about intimate partner violence in Pakistan. The study will involve multiple stakeholders, women as well as men, to provide key information that will help develop effective culturally appropriate interventions.

05/01/16 Epigenetic study of depression and its treatment (declined)

(PI: Joanna Maselko)

Duke Population Research Institute (DuPRI)/DGHI

Total Award: $20,000

Role: Principal Investigator

The goals of this study are (a) to assess the feasibility of collecting and analyzing DNA samples from women participating in the SHARE CHILD study, (b) compare genome wide and gene specific methylation patterns between depressed and non-depressed women and (c) compare genotypes of 3 candidate genes between the depressed and non-depressed women.

10/01/15-
04/30/16 Innovations in tablet-based neuropsychological assessments for global mental health: Pilot applications for adolescent development & suicide prevention in South Asia.

(PI: Joanna Maselko/Brandon Kohrt)

Duke Global Health Institute, Global Mental Health Initiative

Total Award: $10,000

Role: Co-Principal Investigator

The goal of this project is to adapt and pilot culturally appropriate neuropsychological tools in tablet format for South Asian adolescents at risk of suicide.

02/01/14-
05/01/16 Technology-Assisted assessment, cascade training and supervision (TACTS) system pilot.

(PI: Shamsa Zafar)

Grand Challenges Canada, Mental Health Seed Grant

Total Award: $250,000

Role: Co-Investigator

The goal of this project is to develop and pilot a technology assisted training program for front line community workers to deliver mental health interventions.

09/01/13-
11/01/14 Youth in Transition: Developmental Pathways to Risk and Resilience in South India.

(PI: Joanna Maselko)

Duke Initiative on Education and Human Development Pilot Funds

Total Award: $25,000

Role: Principal Investigator

- 07/01/12-10/31/14 Perinatal Depression Treatment and Child Development: A follow-up of the Thinking Healthy Programme.
(PI: Joanna Maselko/Siham Sikander)
SB0038, Grand Challenges Canada Saving Brains Program
Total Award: $910,000
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
This study is set in Pakistan and follows up children whose mothers participated in a successful community based perinatal depression intervention in 2006 to examine potential long term effects of the intervention on child developmental outcomes.
- 07/01/11-06/29/13 Sri Lanka Healthy Minds Study.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
R21 MH0932978
Total Award: $226,000
Role: Principal Investigator
The goal of this study is to lay the foundation for the Sri Lanka Healthy Minds Study (SLHMS), a population based study where individual, caregiver, and other family level factors will be examined using a lifecourse perspective to better understand depression risk and its influence on cognitive impairment.
- 06/01/11-12/15/12 Family Composition and Risk of Mental Health Problems in the Offspring.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
Duke Population Research Institute (DuPRI), NIA, Duke Global Health Institute.
Total Award: $20,000
Role: Principal Investigator
The goal of this study was to collect pilot data and conduct preliminary analysis on the association between a maternal social support measure and maternal mental health in Karnataka, India.
- 08/15/08-04/30/11 Religious Engagement and Psychopathology Over the Life course.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
R03 MH080280
Total Award: $138,000
Role: Principal Investigator
The goal of this study was to analyze data from multiple NCPP studies in order to examine the relation between religiosity, risk factors for psychopathology and psychopathology risk.
- 05/01/08-01/15/09 Stress, Violence and Spiritual Capital.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
John Templeton Foundation, 13794
Total Award: $18,383
Role: Principal Investigator
The goal of this study was to collect pilot data on levels of social capital, spiritual capital and risk factors for violence in a single neighborhood in Philadelphia.
- 2006 Spirituality and Risk of Psychopathology.
(PI: Joanna Maselko)
Society for the Scientific Study of Religion, Jack Shand Award
Total Award: $3000

Role: Principal Investigator
 The goal of this study was to investigate the correlation between spiritual experiences and levels of psychological distress.

11/1/2004-
 10/30/2006 Religious engagement and health
 (PI: Stephen L. Buka)
 NIMH T32MH063106
 Role: Fellow
 The goal of this study was to analyze data from the National Collaborative Perinatal Project on the association between religious engagement and health.
